BATTERED WALLS AND DESERTED STREETS

Japs Frown Down On Port Arthur From 203-Meter Hill.

Hill's Eye View of Port Arthur.
Fusan, Dec. 15.—Every part of the city and harbor of Port Arthur is visible from 203 Meter hill. The streets of the city are deserted, and but few soldiers are doing patrol duty. Many buildings have been burned, and others shattered. The shelters of the harbor present a strange appearance, with turrets, masts and funnels of warships showing just above the water. There is not a vessel afloat in the harbor. Docks and buildings of water front are torn and burned. Japanese shells reach every part of the city and harbor.

Sevastopol Not Sunk.
Tokio, Dec. 15.—A telegram from Port Arthur announces definitely that the Russian battleship Sevastopol is damaged, but still afloat.

The Sevastopol Sheltered.
Fusan, Dec. 15.—The Russian battleship Sevastopol, the only warship that escaped destruction by being docked when the other vessels were sunk after the Japanese capture of 203 Meter hill, escaped from the harbor last night and is now anchored under a protecting mountain.

Last Only Three Men.
Washington, Dec. 15.—The Japanese legation received a dispatch from Tokio saying that the bombardment on the 13th was principally aimed at the arsenal and torpedo depot at Tiger Tail and at steamboats in its vicinity. The torpedo depot was ablaze in one hour. Three ships were destroyed and one sunk, besides the buildings were greatly damaged. Total casualties were only three men wounded.

Not As Bad As Reported.
Mukden, Dec. 15.—Late dispatches from Port Arthur, by way of Chefoo, declare the situation there is by no means as desperate as it is represented by dispatches. The line of the man defense of forts is unbroken and there is plenty of ammunition and food.

A BAD NIGHT

WILLIAM FLOURNOY STUNNED BY RUNAWAY HORSE.

Held Out All Night Unconscious in the Cold—Will Recover.

Mr. William Flournoy, who resides about four miles out on the Hinkleville road, had an experience last night which few men could have gone through, and lived.

He was riding home in his buggy when his horse ran away and threw him out. This happened within a short distance of his house about 11 o'clock last night, and he was not found until this morning about 5 o'clock when a neighbor discovered him walking about in a half stunned condition.

He had been thrown out of the buggy and his left shoulder dislocated, his face badly cut and bruised, and his right knee cut, besides many bruises being about the body. The fall stunned him and he did not recover until early this morning. He laid out all night with the temperature below freezing point and the physicians say this escape was miraculous.

Drs. Reddick and Sory were summoned this morning and left the patient doing well. He is a brother to Mr. Jim Flournoy, the I. C. policeman, and a brother-in-law to Officer William Rogers, of the city.

NO ONE KILLED.

Six Hurt in Burlington Wreck, Near Bristol, Ill.

Bristol, Ill., Dec. 15.—A Burlington fast mail train left the tracks here this morning and two cars were badly wrecked.

The conductor, brakeman and four mail clerks were injured. The train was traveling sixty miles an hour when it struck a defective rail.

Dodging work keeps many a fellow busy.

MRS. CHADWICK IS SATISFIED IN JAIL

Declines an Offer to Have Her Bond Signed.

Declares She Will Pay All Money Back, and Says Her Husband Has Plenty of Money.

DR. CHADWICK COMING BACK.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 15.—Reclining on a couch in a corridor of the Cuyahoga county jail and looking the picture of content, Mrs. Chadwick said she decided not to seek bail because while in jail she would be free from the annoyance of curious people. She said she received a letter from one of the wealthiest men in the country offering to sign her bond for any amount. She refused the offer, however.

She ridiculed the report that Dr. Chadwick had cashed friends for funds and declared "he is plentifully supplied with money." She also assured her friends that she would "show them and the whole world that I am an honest woman, that I have never wrongfully obtained money from any one and that I will repay every dollar of my indebtedness."

Jeered and Hooted.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 15.—Five times indicted by the United States at the exact minute her train rolled into the station, Mrs. Chadwick came home to Cleveland yesterday afternoon to be greeted with jeers, hoots and hisses by the crowds that gathered in the depot and growled at by hundreds gathered in front of the federal building.

Dr. Chadwick to Return.

Paris, Dec. 15.—Dr. Chadwick, husband of the Cleveland wizard of finance is here, but says he will return to America. He says he has no fear of being implicated in his wife's transactions.

MUST HANG

SAYS COURT AT MEMPHIS IN WILLIAM LIGHTFOOT CASE.

The Date Was Yesterday Fixed by Judge Moss For February Trial.

The motion for a new trial in the case against William Lightfoot, colored, of Paducah, charged with the murder of Roy Sloan, white, at Woodstock, Tenn., last January, was overruled in the criminal court at Memphis yesterday afternoon by Judge Moss and Lightfoot was sentenced to hang February 3rd. It is the second time Lightfoot has been sentenced to hang for this offense, the other time being set for last April.

Yesterday, before the court would consent to pass on the motion, Attorney Berry had to eliminate all the language in Lightfoot's affidavit that the court objected to, and to further make an apology.

The action of the court was not unexpected, and Attorney Berry will now take an appeal as he did before his belief here that Lightfoot will get another new trial.

IN EVANSVILLE.

Dispatcher Jorgenson Is Working Temporarily Now.

Mr. Allan Jorgenson, the dispatcher, went to Evansville today to work temporarily on the Evansville district of the I. C. A dispatcher resigned and Mr. Jorgenson will work until a successor is appointed. It is said that Mr. Jorgenson will be prevailed upon to remain in Evansville, but this report cannot be corroborated.

Jap Boat Missing.

London, Dec. 15.—Hiroo Hayashi has received the following telegram from Tokio: "One of our torpedo boats is still missing. The rest returned from the attack on Sevastopol in safety. The Sevastopol's bow is under water."

SHE DROPPED DEAD FROM STAGE FRIGHT

Peculiar Fate of a Child in Brooklyn, N. Y.

The Past Season in Baseball Successful—H. C. Pulliam Was Re-elected President.

UNIVERSITY REJECTS $100,000

New York, Dec. 15.—Excitement and nervousness because she was to recite a verse from the Bible at the Christmas entertainment in Brooklyn caused the death of May Young, 10 years old.

While rehearsing she stepped from the line to recite her verse and fell forward on her face, dead.

Past Baseball Season.

New York, Dec. 15.—Harry C. Pulliam was unanimously re-elected president, secretary and treasurer of the National league of professional baseball clubs at the annual meeting.

Reports showed the season of 1904 was the most successful financially in history.

The total amount of paid admissions was $1,932,682.

Refuses $100,000 Request.

Appleton, Wis., Dec. 15.—Lawrence University will renounce all claims to the gift of the said $100,000 provided in the will of William W. Cooper, who lost his life in the Iroquois theater fire in Chicago.

No reason is given by the university trustees for their waiving the claim, but it is conjectured that Cooper's attendance at a theater, which is under the ban of the church, is the reason.

A SAD DEATH

LITTLE MISS MARY MOTT AYERS DIES FROM SCARLET FEVER.

The Fourth Death in the Immediate Family in Eighteen Months.

Little Miss Mary Mott Ayers, the bright and popular ten year old daughter of Colonel Mott Ayers, the former Fulton newspaper man and now a state official at Frankfort, Ky., died yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock at her home in Fulton from scarlet fever, after an illness of only a few days. The child became ill Saturday, and had gradually become worse until death relieved her, her father and stepmother being called to Fulton Tuesday.

The little Miss had been living in Paducah for the last year with her grandmother, Mrs. L. W. Boswell, of North Fifth street, until a short time ago, when she and her little sister, Inez, returned to Fulton to live. They were both very popular with all who knew them here, and news of the death of Miss Mary Mott Ayers will bring great sorrow to many. Her sister is now at the home of Mrs. Boswell here, it not being deemed safe to take her to Fulton on account of scarlet fever.

There have been four deaths in the immediate family of Mrs. Boswell within eighteen months, her father, husband, daughter-in-law and grandchild having died during that time.

The funeral of the little girl took place at 11 o'clock this morning.

Harry McAtee, colored, who was struck in the head by a hatchet thrown by A. W. Loving, colored, Monday night, has recovered sufficiently to leave the hospital.

It was thought the man was badly injured, but after a day or two in the city hospital recovered and yesterday walked out.

Former Deputy Sheriff Dies.

News has been received here of the death near Cadiz, Trigg county, of R. H. Gentry, a former deputy sheriff, and a man well-known in this section. He was 60 years old and leaves a wife and several children.

THOMAS W. LAWSON DENIES THE STORY

"Not Completely Assassinated Yet" He Declared.

Reported That the Standard Oil Company Is About to Prosecute Him for His Acts.

VIOLATED THE PENAL CODE

New York, Dec. 15.—It is generally believed in financial circles that certain high officials of the Standard Oil Co. are planning to proceed against Thos. W. Lawson on the charges that he circulated false rumors about the stock market. The plan under advisement is to bring criminal proceedings under the penal code, which provides punishment for such an alleged action.

"Not Quite Yet."

Boston, Dec. 15.—A rumor current in the London stock exchange circles this morning was that Thos. W. Lawson, of "Frenzied Finance" fame, was assassinated but it is without foundation. Mr. Lawson said to your representative when told of the rumor: "I'm not completely assassinated yet."

GRAND JURY

BROUGHT IN ANOTHER BATCH OF INDICTMENTS THIS A. M.

Has Done Good Work During Its Two Weeks' Session—Cases Set for Trial.

The grand jury is doing good work, and is rapidly finishing up the jail cases. It today returned another big batch of indictments against prisoners charged with various things. Some grand juries are very slow, but this one is fast. Its time was extended a week by Judge Reed Saturday, and may be extended another week the coming Saturday.

The members of the jury have incidentally while investigating the jail cases, investigated outside matters as they had time and opportunity.

The indictments returned today are:

Jim McRae, white, for robbing T. E. Miller of a watch and $6 in money. There is another implicated in the indictment but he is not before the court; case set 11th day.

Kent Williams, white, charged with stealing a suit of clothes. He rooms with John S. Winston, a fireman who was killed, and it is alleged confiscated one of the dead man's suits.

Eber Dunlap, colored, charged with forging notes to secure money from Andy Watkins and other colored men.

H. T. and Ida Hiesig, for renting a house to immoral women.

G. L. Grace, for breach of the peace. He is charged with heating up H. B. Kirkpatrick.

The following hawdy house indictments were returned: Frankie Dixon, Lucille Thompson, Ella Howe, Lucille Trammell, Ida Eastwood, Fannie Wilson, Frankie Eastwood, Mollie Nelf and Mollie Groom.

NEW STEWARD.

Is Tipped for the Lakeland, Ky., Asylum.

Louisville, Dec. 15.—The announcement is made here that Gov. Beckham has selected his father-in-law, J. K. Fugate, of Owensboro, for steward of the Lakeland insane asylum.

Mayfield Couple Marry.

Mr. Ed Chapman and Miss Maude Seaford, of Mayfield, were today licensed to wed. They went to the residence of Rev. G. O. Buchanan to be married and will return home tonight after the ceremony is performed.

Charly may cover a multitude of sins, but a lot more will spring up.

Many a man has won a girl's hand, only to find he hasn't won her heart.

PADUCAH SCHOOLS TO HAVE LECTURES

A Big Stereopticon Purchased to Aid in the Work.

It Is Expected to Interest Both Parent and Pupil—Begins After the Holidays.

SOME OTHER SCHOOL NOTES

A fine stereopticon has been purchased for the Paducah high school and will be used in inaugurating a novelty which will facilitate the teaching of several branches, and arouse more interest in pupil and parent in studies.

"We have purchased this machine," Principal Payne explained this morning, "to use in the teaching of history and other branches. We will not use the machine, of course, in the day time, but at night. We expect to give lectures on history and other subjects at night to give both parent and pupil will be invited. The entertainment will be in line with lectures at the colleges and universities and we think will take here. The parent is often interested in his child's studies but is not fully enough acquainted with them to give him the proper aid in studying. If we can get the parent to school to hear our lectures and see our illustrations, he will become greatly interested and will consequently be in a better position to help his child.

"This is what we strive for and hope we can get the mothers and fathers interested sufficiently to come out and attend these lectures. We expect to begin after the holidays and will continue until the close of school."

The slides to the stereopticon will be ordered in installments when needed and retained for use the following year.

The present management of the schools has done much in the way of improvement, and will not stop until the schools are made equal to the best public schools in the country.

The laboratory at the high school is complete in fixtures except the installation of gas, and when this is done it will be open for inspection. It is of course small, but as complete as is possible to make one of its size. The pupils are taking a lively interest in the scientific work and the laboratory will be increased year after year as the pupils advance.

The teachers and pupils in the schools are taking a great interest in athletics and basketball teams have been organized in every class in the high school. The girls have teams and also the boys and when an outside team wants a game, the best players from all grades are selected to represent the school.

The boys are through with football for the season but already talk of organizing a school hall team has started. The high school will have a ball team this spring and one which will be a credit to the school, it is said.

MANY WOUNDED

In a Battle of Women, Men and Gendarmes.

Madrid, Dec. 15.—The feast of the Virgin was marked by a riotous scene at Valencia. A procession of 6,000 women bearing lighted tapers to the cathedral, came in conflict with a republican demonstration, and a general fight ensued. The gendarmes were unable to disperse the combatants by charging, and fired several rounds from their carbines into the mob. Many persons, including women, were wounded.

Given Fowler Will Recover.

Mr. Given Fowler is reported much better today and his physicians say if he pulls through today will be out of danger. His many friends will be pleased to learn this encouraging news.

The Blacksmith Preacher.

Rev. W. H. Harris, the blacksmith preacher, will preach at the Union Mission Hall, 431 South Third street, tonight at 7:30. Let everybody come and hear him. All made welcome.

SCHOOL CHILDREN FALL WITH BRIDGE

Gave Way While Crowded and Two Were Drowned.

Highwayman Holds Up Bank—Father of Richard Harding Davis Dies.

BOY SHOOT A COMPANION.

Charleston, W. Va., Dec. 15.—The suspension bridge over Elk river collapsed this morning when crowded with school children, and all were thrown to the ice sixty feet below. Two young girls were drowned and others were rescued with difficulty.

Locked Cashier in Vault.

Hibbing, Minn., Dec. 15.—A lone highwayman held up the bank of Chisholm during business hours, and secured $2,200. He forced Cashier Greiser into a vault at the muzzle of a revolver and locked the door. The robber escaped.

Richard Harding Davis' Father.

Philadelphia, Dec. 15.—L. Clark Davis, editor of the Public Ledger, is dead, aged 70. Richard Harding Davis, the war correspondent, novelist and magazine writer, is one of his sons.

A Modern William Tell.

Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 15.—In an effort to imitate the feat of William Tell, Ernest Linn, 16 years of age, shot off the top of the head of Sylvan Belotok, aged 9. The target was a tin can on the child's head.

Today finds the mystery of what became of Charles Rudolph Mason still unsolved. He has been missing a month.

SOME CHANGES

ILLINOIS CENTRAL HAS MADE SEVERAL WITHIN PAST FEW DAYS.

Promotions in Freight Department at Jackson, Tenn.—Changes in Other Places.

There have been three changes in the freight department of the I. C. at Jackson, Tenn., which are of interest here.

Mr. Jacob M. Jones, who has been chief clerk in the N. C. & St. L. freight department, resigned to accept the chief clerkship of the Illinois Central freight offices at Cairo, Ill. Mr. Jones was connected with the I. C. several years before he went to the N. C. & St. L.

Mr. Jones will be succeeded as chief clerk in Jackson by Mr. A. W. Jones, for the past few months chief inspector of the Southern Weighing and Inspection Bureau in Jackson. He will be succeeded by Mr. Lee Caldwell, who has been with the Illinois Central for some years in the freight department.

M. J. McGrath, master mechanic of the Illinois Central at East St. Louis, Ill., has been transferred to Clinton, Ky., where he will have a similar position at the company's shops.

Time Checker Frank Davis of the I. C., who has been stationed at Fulton, for a number of months, has been transferred to Carbondale.

BROKE JAIL.

Two Prisoners Escaped at Cadiz and Have Not Been Recaptured.

Chief of Police Collins today received a message from Cadiz that two negro prisoners, Bud Tyler and Nick Matthews, both charged with felony had broken jail there, but did not give any particulars. Cadiz has a brand-new jail and it is not understood how the prisoners could have escaped from it. Small rewards are offered for their capture.

Washington, Dec. 15.—The arbitration treaty between the United States and Italy has been signed by Secretary of State Hay and Italian Ambassador Desplanes.

MR. L. P. HEAD

WANTS TO GO TO THE LEGISLATURE FROM McCracken.

Is a Well Known Printer and Is Already Getting Much Encouragement.

Louis P. Head, the well known printer and for several years a resident of Paducah, will make the race for representative from McCracken county to succeed Captain W. C. Clark in the legislature, if he gets the Democratic nomination March 30. Mr. Head has not for nally announced, but his friends say he has received much encouragement and that he will make the race.

The Murray Neighborhood Notes of yesterday says:

"Louis P. Head, a personal friend of the writer, and president of Paducah Typographical Union, is being urged to make the race for the Democratic nomination for representative from McCracken county. Mr. Head is well qualified for the place and the laboring men of Paducah and McCracken county and the state at large would have an earnest champion of their interest were they to elect Louis Head to the legislature."

OH, JOY!

Here is a Town Without a Board of Councilmen.

Morganfield, Ky., Dec. 15.—The municipal affairs of Uniontown are in somewhat of a muddled condition. Mayor Tenre declares the city is without a council and calls on all good citizens and taxpayers to meet and advise him what to do.

The trouble began at the last election when a town council should have been elected. The election was held but the returns were in such shape that the election commissioners could not certify as to who had been elected.

ed. Litigation followed and not until Gov. Beckham appointed a council was it settled.

It is now contended that a new council should have been elected at the November election this year, but such was not done. The proclamation by Mayor Tenre, declaring the city to be without a council, is the result.

Mary This Evening.

Mr. Harry Williams and Miss Carrie Stephens will be married this evening at 8 o'clock at the Baptist parsonage on North Fifth, Rev. G. W. Perryman, officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mr. Will Stephens, of near Kevil, and the young man is a popular young tinner at G. H. Davis'. They will reside on South Third street.

"I was much afflicted with sciatica," writes Ed C. Nud, Iawaville, Sedgwick Co., Kan., "going about on crutches and suffering a deal of pain. I was induced to try Ballard's Snow Liniment, which relieved me. I used three 50c bottles. It is the greatest liniment I ever used; have recommended it to a number of persons; all express themselves as being benefited by it. I now walk without crutches, able to perform a great deal of light labor on the farm." 50c, 25c and 15c. Sold by DuBois, Kolb & Co.

Many Woodmen Out.

A large meeting of Woodmen of the World was held last evening at Red Men's hall and thirty-one candidates were initiated. All the candidates were not present and there will be another session tonight, followed by a dance and luncheon. State Manager J. H. Brewer will tonight award the prizes to the successful lodge in the membership contest.

Will Not Accept.

Rev. E. E. Hendrick, a Cumberland Presbyterian minister well known in Paducah, has declined a call to Union City, Tenn., and goes to Chicago to take a three months' Bible course. Rev. Hendrick held a revival in Paducah last month.

WELL-KNOWN METHODIST MINISTER PRESIDING ELDER.

Has Served Several Churches in Kentucky as Pastor and Held Meetings Here.

The Rev. John W. Lewis, D. D., formerly presiding elder of the Louisville district of the M. E. church, south, has been made presiding elder of the Nashville district of the Tennessee conference. He has for the past year been the presiding elder of the Jackson (Miss.) district.

He is widely known throughout Kentucky, having earlier in his career as a minister been pastor of Hopkinsville, Bowling Green, and Henderson. In 1901 he transferred to the Mississippi conference.

Dr. Lewis is known in Paducah to many people. He once held a revival in the Broadway Methodist church when it was across from its present site. He is one of the most able and scholarly men in the Southern Methodist church, and has several times received votes for bishop.

Jail repaired.

The committee of fiscal court has had the jail window repaired. They were broken out by the heat of the storehouse fire recently, and for several days no new glass was put in, the prisoners suffering considerably from cold. Finally such a fuse was raised that the county judge and members of fiscal court had the work done. It is not known what will be done about rebuilding the storehouse.

NEW BRIDGE

OVER TENNESSEE WILL NOT BE FINISHED BY FIRST OF YEAR.

Estimated That Completion Will Be Two Months Later Than Expected.

The expectations of the I. C. officials regarding the completion of the Tennessee river bridge at Gilbertsville will fall short, the bridge will not be completed for several weeks after the first of the year.

It was expected to finish the pier work by January 1st, but the work is only half complete.

Two piers on the north side of the river have been completed and the iron work is now being put up. The No. 6 pier, the draw pier, is finished and also one on the south side of the river. Nos. 5 and 7 are above high water mark and 3 and 4 are near completion.

It is now estimated by railroad men that it will require until June at the latest to finish the work and run trains over the bridge. The main line leading from Gravel Switch to the bridge approach has been completed and is being used as a passing track. This cuts out several curves and shortens time on the division.

The work of completing the bridge will probably go two months over the limit first set by the I. C. officials.

The wrecker was sent out this morning at 8 o'clock to Grand Rivers and Princeton to pick up timber and replace a derailed caboose at the latter city.

Just a Hint of Stage Gossip Between Acts in "Sergeant Kitz"—At The Kentucky Friday Night.

Theatrical Notes

Nat M. Willis last night played "A Son of Rest" to a large audience at The Kentucky. Mr. Willis was in Paducah last season for the first time, and he made such an impression that his return was marked by one of the largest audiences of the season. "A Son of Rest" is an entertaining, and could be imagined, with good music, pretty melodies, splendid songs of love and a number of beautiful interludes that would do credit to any show. Many do not like "A Son of Rest" as well as last year, because it seems to have become monotonous to Mr. Willis, who, despite the excellent company he carries, is himself most of the show. There are some new songs, and two by Mr. Willis brought forth repeated encores. Mr. Willis will have something new next season, and he will no doubt come to Paducah. He will find a hearty welcome when he does.

The audience was so victorious last night in a certain call after the first act that Mr. Willis had to come out and make a little talk. He told a story, but it was too old, unfortunately to repeat. He must have heard it in Henderson.

The comic opera "Sergeant Kitz" will be seen at The Kentucky on Friday night. This announcement means a great deal to those who thoroughly enjoy good music and like to be amused for three hours by funmakers whose methods are refined and who are really funny. Love, the comic side of French army life, and the natural complications that arise, form the basis of the entertainment. In the title role is Miss Helen Flynn who is winning, pretty and petite. Her sister, Yvonne is the principal funmaker and is assisted by Evelyn Langdon and Tom Hadway. Miss Virginia Palmer, Miss Edith Blair, the prima donna, Miss Lillian Seville, Miss Clara Sterling, Miss Myrtle Lorimer, Wheeler Earl, Fred Clark Knights and many others.

Kilroy and Britton's new play in which they will be seen at the Kentucky theatre for one performance only on next Saturday matinee and evening is styled "An Aristocratic Tramp" which is above the average.

tramp show in every respect and contains more features in one angle not than all other so-called tramp shows in four. There are seven big specialty features in addition to the regular company, making the entire production second to nothing of this class traveling and their reception here should be a heavy one to say the least. Toys to all the children Saturday afternoon.

People go to the theatre to be entertained. Gloomy plays, except in rare instances, are not favorably received. Audiences, especially women audiences, like to have their feelings wrought upon to a certain extent. They even enjoy an opportunity to shed a few tears. But they also like to have the tears followed by laughter, they want the sad to come out between the clouds. "Under Southern Skies" does it. There is something about the beautiful stage settings, youthful, summery dresses, crowds of gay young folks, Halloween tricks, Jack-o'-lantern dance and touching love scenes that enchant the soul, who are in the hey-day of their own pleasures, and fascinate their elders by carrying them back to their own merry days. "Under Southern Skies" is to appear in Paducah on Monday, December 19, and the incident is that it will be witnessed by a large and fashionable audience.

Coughing Spell Caused Death.
"Harry Duckwell, aged 25 years, choked to death early yesterday morning at his home, 1014 the presence of his wife and child. He contracted a slight cold a few days ago and paid but little attention to it. Yesterday morning he was seized with a fit of coughing which continued for some time. His wife sent for a physician but before he could arrive, another coughing spell came on and Duckwell died from suffocation. St. Louis Globe-Democrat, Dec. 1, 1901." Ballard's Horehound Syrup would have saved him. 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by DuBois, Kolb & Co.

SLOW WORK is the Organization of the New State Federation of Labor.

The work of reorganizing the State Federation of Labor began Tuesday at Louisville, has not progressed very rapidly, and has not yet been accomplished. John D. Wood, of Central City, is mentioned as the permanent chairman. He has been temporary chairman. The meeting was to have been finished yesterday, but will last through today.

WANT HEAT.

Effort to Be Made to Get I. C. Depot Properly Heated.

When Mr. H. U. Wallace, chief engineer of the I. C., comes to Paducah again, he will be personally solicited regarding the heating service at the local passenger depot and it is believed he will take the matter up and arrange for relief.

Several weeks ago it was announced that the company would install a boiler at the depot and furnish steam heat for the depot, the coaches which are side tracked at the depot until made up into trains, and also the air plant to clean cars. Since this action was announced several plans have been furnished and sent to Chicago, but no action taken. The depot was cold this morning and has been since the real cold weather set in. The heating plant is inadequate and has been since installed.

"If the railroad company does not do something with this heating plant," a traveling man declared this morning. "It will have a drainage suit on its hands. I saw a poor woman waiting here last week. She had been ill, but could readily be seen, and was huddled about the radiator in the waiting room trying to make herself warm. The radiator gave out practically no heat and the room was actually cold. I suggested that she go to the hotel across the way and wait for the train, but she stated she was feeling ill to go, and remained in the depot. The company is always ready to make necessary improvements and it is a source of wonder to me why it hasn't thrown the old heater out long ago."

Every winter the situation is the same as at present and besides the traveling public being inconvenienced by the lack of proper heating facilities, the employees of the road suffer.

AT BROOKPORT.

There Was a Small Blaze There Yesterday.

Fire at Brookport yesterday destroyed the residence and contents of J. L. Williams, across the street from and west of the school house.

As the family was absent from home and the flames had gained uncontrollable headway before discovery, it is not known how the fire originated. The loss will not be heavy as the building and contents were partially covered by insurance. The property of Gus McGillett was also badly damaged, but the household goods were removed without serious injury.

The Weather.
Fair and colder tonight. Friday rain with rising temperature.

CONSISTENT? WHY, ALWAYS.

If a newspaper cannot handle public questions intelligently and consistently it should not attempt to handle them at all. The News-Democrat last week was in favor of paying the school teachers for the Christmas holidays, no matter what the result. Yesterday it came out flat-footed against paying them a cent unless they earned it.

Here is what the News-Democrat said only last Friday:

"If all means the public school teachers should have their salaries in full for December, holidays or no holidays. The glad Christmas is no time for punishing or abridging the opportunities for pleasure of any of the Lord's children. Any attempted technical construction of the law in such cases makes people of Paducah tired."

Yesterday it came out with just the opposite, as follows:

"The movement to give away nearly $1,000 of the people's money has hit a large and beautifully illustrated snag. It is not known where this neat little scheme originated. Perhaps it was incubated in the brain of some men on the school board who have relatives employed as teachers. But teachers are paid with checks out of the people's money. . . . The school board of Paducah represents the taxpayers and the children. It has no right to appropriate money except for services rendered or supplies purchased. Beyond all question it has no right to appropriate nearly $1,000 as a Christmas gift to the teachers. . . ."

We think the president of the board has taken the right stand and believe that the board ought to uphold him, no matter what it may have perfunctorily done heretofore.

Let justice and right prevail. Give the teachers what they have earned in advance of the holidays, let the taxpayers keep the thousand dollars in the bank and give the children the full 190 days of school which the teachers signed a contract to teach."

Now if that isn't a flop that would jar the rings around Saturn, what is it?

WORK FOR ALL TO DO.

Paducah should get to work, as Cairo, Henderson, Owensboro, Louisville and many other cities are constantly doing. Some one should arouse a little interest in building up the town.

Down at Cairo the merchants and other public spirited citizens are thoroughly awake—and Cairo is our nearest rival and competitor. The other night a big public meeting was held there and committees appointed to boost the town.

Various public improvements and other matters were referred to various committees, and the committees are expected to work.

Paducah needs something of the kind. Eternal vigilance is the price of progress, as well as of other things. The public spirited citizens of Paducah should develop a little energy.

"Greater Cairo" is the motto down there now, and no matter how far they fall short of their hopes, expectations and ambitions, living up to their motto to the best of their ability is not going to hurt the town any. It will help it.

At the Cairo mass meeting committees, with duly credited chairmen, were appointed for securing or promoting the following:

Civic harmony.
Clean and better streets.
Good city laws.
Insurance.
Railroad rates.

And there were other things. A mere glance will suffice to convince any one in Paducah that a little work along the above lines here would be of inestimable benefit. If Paducah goes forward somebody must push. A city can no more progress without the aid of energy and intelligence than a locomotive can run without steam.

We need a little steam here.

Every merchant realizes it, and every merchant knows that for the town to grow and improve will mean for his business to grow and improve. Why not try it?

After the Christmas rush, which is keeping most of our enterprising men busy, why not start in to do something for the city? Why not have a "Greater Paducah?"

Why not get a good start by New Year and not allow interest to lag during the entire year?

The Globe-Democrat does not feel that Kentucky is past redemption. In commenting on the Power's reversal, it says:

"There must be an awakening in Kentucky, as there has been in Missouri. No court would go to such lengths if it did not feel the response in popular revulsion of feeling. The language of the court should be published throughout the length and breadth of our country to show what things have been done in the name of justice, without so much as general condemnation, and to prove that finally the protest has been heard. In Missouri this decision is a fitting commentary on an election system and a police law that promised to put us upon the Kentucky basis, but that were fortunately laid low by popular will before even graver mischief than the stealing of offices had been done."

John D. Rockefeller, who is daily abused by pulpits, press and everything else, as no other man in the country is abused, has just given away three million dollars more. If he would give any of his critics—even the worst on the list—a very small slice of such a sum, it is likely that the critic would straightway be ready to proclaim to the world that John D. is the mightiest philanthropist, greatest genius and most goody creature alive. John D. we are inclined to think, is abused more because he is envied than because he deserves it.

Arthur Goebel, it is announced in the dispatches, "will go into the prosecution of Caleb Powers with renewed energy." To be sure. He wouldn't be a Goebel if he didn't keep up such work. The prosecution's supply of perjury, however, is said to be running somewhat low.

PECULIAR VERDICT IN ASSAULT CASE

Marshall County Negro Will Spend Two Years in Jail.The Verdict Says "At Hard Labor
—Today's Police Court Docket.

NEWS OF THE OTHER COURTS

Circuit Court.
Clarence Birtle, alias Burdell, the Marshall county negro who last summer attempted to stop Miss Venio Schoening, of the Tyler neighborhood, a young girl of about 14 years of age, was found guilty this morning and given one of the most peculiar sentences recorded in McCreck circuit court in many terms.

The verdict of the jury is that the defendant shall be confined in the county jail for a period of one year at hard labor to be worked at the rate of $1 a day and in addition to the jail sentence that he be fined $200. This means that Birtle in addition to the one year term will have to serve two hundred days longer, unless he can make up the fine. It is not known how he will be worked, as no provision has ever been made in this county to work jail prisoners.

Birtle was returned from Clark's River, he claimed, after loading a load of logs, and was coming to town. He stepped in front of the girl as she was going to a small creek after water and her screams brought help and frightened Birtle away.

Monroe Mitchell, colored, who broke into the Rex Manufacturing Co. in Mechanicsburg and attempted to steal picture frames, was found guilty of house breaking and given one year in the penitentiary.

Mandy McGee, colored, who ran a game in her house, was fined $200 for her enterprise.

Harry Dean, white, who stole Ed Martin's bicycle, was found guilty of grand larceny and given one year in the penitentiary.

E. M. Marlin, alias Marshall, who passed a check on E. M. Blackhall, the saloon man of Ninth and Kentucky avenue, for $6, was acquitted of passing a forged check this afternoon. The check was supposed to have been stolen from a Greenville firm and was for ice claims against the I. C.

County Court.

James A. Glauber and wife deed to Laura C. Herndon, for $3,300, property near Fourth and Washington streets.

F. M. Milburn has been appointed administrator of the estate of Bernetta Milburn.

Lydia Carroll was this afternoon acquitted on a charge of stealing $65 from Friddle Yopp.

Jane Webb was fined $50 for cutting in sudden heat and passion.

To Sell Stock.

F. G. Rudolph, assistant, has filed a suit against T. K. Harper and others, to sell the stock of Harper. Harper was formerly in the wall paper business here but made an assignment to Mr. Rudolph.

Sues for Divorce.

Rachel Calhoun has filed suit against her husband Albert Calhoun, for divorce and $1,000 alimony on the grounds of abandonment. They married in August 1901, and separated in November, 1902.

Police Court.

The star case in Judge L. D. Sanders' tribunal this morning was that against G. R. Cox and G. Jeffries, two blacksmiths, who got drunk several nights ago and after both being cut, created disturbance at the I. C. depot. Cox was cut in the cheek, he claims by a negro woman. He and his companion later went to the depot to leave town and while there began quarreling and finally Cox cut Jeffries in the hand. It is alleged. They were arrested by Detective Dinneen, of the I. C. and brought to the city hall. A fine of $10 and costs was assessed against the defendants for being drunk and disorderly at the depot.

Other cases were: Ed. Henson, white, breach of ordinance, dismissed on motion of prosecuting attorney; Alabama Kid and Henry Hardin, breach of the peace, $10 and costs each; Hugh Quinn, white, petty larceny, 30 days in jail. He stole the lines off Mr. Dick Calisal's horse on Broadway last night; "Tad" Wilson, colored, stealing from I. C., left open; Lillie Fisher, colored, petty larceny, 20 days in jail.

INQUIRES OF SON WHO SUICIDED HERE

Aged Father in Ireland Asks
About George Maze.The Deceased Was His Son and Hunged Himself in I. C. Hospital a Year Ago.

FATHER HADN'T BEEN LOCATED

City Clerk Henry Bailey yesterday received a letter from Andrew Maze, of Belfast, Ireland, inquiring about the fate and disposition of the effects of his son, George Maze, who hung himself in the local I. C. hospital a year ago last September.

The son was a machinist by trade, and came here a few weeks before he was taken ill of typhoid fever. He grew delirious and while the nurses were out of the ward, slipped down stairs and hung himself in the toilet room.

The machinists' union appointed an administrator who took charge of Maze's watch and prayer books, and sent the effects to the father, but each time they were returned, the address proving incorrect. The father in some way heard of his son's death, but did not know how much money and what effects the son had, and wrote to Captain Henry Bailey, thinking he was on the police force, to ascertain.

The facts of the case were turned over to Officer T. J. Moore, who was acting captain last night, and an answer to the letter written. The administrator now has the correct address and will forward the watch and other effects at once, which will make the fourth time.

Maze lived in Ireland and had been away from home only a short time.

BONNO GONE

PADUCAH'S ITALIAN TWIRLER
SOLD FOR $250.Will Play Next Season With the Newark, N. J. Team.

It will be bad news to the fans here to learn that Gus Bonno will not be in Indian uniform next season, the draft papers and money have been signed and turned over. The Italian twirler will therefore be no obstacle for Cairo batters next season.

Bonno wanted to go east and play in the eastern leagues and tried several ways to get away from Paducah, but he had signed and the management held him to it. Manager Harry Hurnam, of the Newark, N. J., Eastern league team, wanted Bonno and after trying to secure him every other way, finally sent $250 in draft money to the local management and the papers have been signed and will be sent away today to Hurnam which ends the Bonno matter.

Bonno, by the way, has about the best record of any pitcher in minor leagues. He has pitched more games than ordinarily a pitcher is expected to pitch, and has won in the last three years over three-fourths of them. He was recently given a very fine complimentary notice in the Cincinnati Inquirer sporting news.

Invited to Have Representatives Here.

Sunday the long talked-of K. I. T. league meeting will be held in Paducah at the Palmer House, and every indication points to a large attendance.

Mr. John Keiler, of the association, has written to several cities not in the old league, inviting them to attend. They are Washington, Ind., Owensboro, Ky., Jackson, Tenn., Marion, Ill., and Murphyboro, Ill. The old cities are invited and will have representation here, it is expected.

NEWS OF THE RIVERS.

The Lyda left last evening for the Tennessee river.

The Clyde leaves this evening for the Tennessee river at 5 o'clock, in her old trade. Yesterday was her regular day for leaving, but she did not get away.

The Tennessee is due from the Tennessee river today.

During the long, dry spell and season of low water all the regular packets in the various trades have been put in repair and are in the condition for business. Their return will be hailed with pleasure, as their services have been needed for some time by the traveling public and shippers generally. It will not be many days before the boats will be running and the river business be generally revived.

Considerable ice in the Ohio from Wheeling up and a lock out threatened.

The Monongahela Consolidated Coke and Coal company has sent a lot of chains and screws to Vicksburg to raise the sunken tug Eliza.

The City of Winona is on her way to Paducah to go on the ways.

The gauge today is three feet even and rising slowly. The weather is still cool, and there is little prospect of much more water on the present rise. Today's reports show the Ohio, Tennessee, Cumberland and Mississippi rivers either falling or standing at all points except Paducah and Louisville, where there are slight rises.

The Gondola went to Cairo this morning with a derrick boat.

The tie men are again discouraged. The rise has stopped.

The genial face of Capt. Egan, of the Lily is again illuminating Monkey Wrench Corner. Capt. Egan is a member of Paducah lodge of Elks, and has been coming to Paducah with his boat for many seasons to lay up for the winter. His boat is a government lighthouse tender on the Mississippi river out of St. Louis, and is one of the best on the river. Capt. Egan is always welcome in Paducah, where he is considered at home, although he doesn't live here. He says he is glad to get back. His boat is moored up about Kilgore's, in Tennessee river.

The towboat, Condor got aground at the Chain in Ohio river between Paducah and Cairo yesterday while en route here with two barges of timber and railroad iron, and the Carrie V. stopped to pull her off.

The U. S. lighthouse tender Lily arrived yesterday from the Mississippi river to lay up for the winter. She is moored at Kilgore's mill. Captain Mark Cole brought her up.

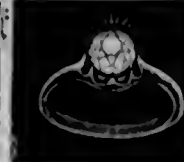

The Duncan, an I. C. transfer boat, completely overhauled here, was taken to Thebes, Ill., yesterday. Captain M. Cole took her down and left the wheel at Cairo.

The Dolphin starts from Mound City today for Paducah to lay up.

The Leyhe fleet is forming at Mound City to come to Paducah for winter quarters. The Spread Eagle, Cape Girardeau and one or two other boats of the fleet are already there and when the entire fleet with barges has formed, will start up. The boats will probably wait for a little rise, however.

Memphis Wedding.

Today's Commercial-Appeal says: "A pretty wedding within the scope of Yuletide decorations was that of Miss Ora Gordon Cross and Lawrence Nelson Nolen, of Nashville, which was solemnized last evening at 7 o'clock at the First Methodist church, Rev. Dr. Thompson officiating. For the occasion the sacred edifice was prettily draped and garlanded in Christmas colors, holly and mistletoe lending their charm of beauty to the scene. The wedding party was composed of the following members: Maid of honor, Miss Katherine Cross; best man, Walter Nolen, of Nashville; groomsmen, Dave Abbott, of Louisville, and John Burkhardt, of Memphis; bridesmaids, Miss Marion Spears and Miss Ida Lee Sledge; ushers, Harry Barker, Pearce Wait, Charles Bourne and Marcus Chapsky. No reception followed the ceremony, as a near and dear relative of the bride is critically ill. Mr. and Mrs. Nolen left on the night train for the East. Mrs. Nolen's traveling suit was a brown cloth tailored suit with hat in harmony. For the ceremony she wore a robe of silver lace, studded in pearls, over a foundation of chiffon and tulle. Her veil was caught with a chaplet of orange flowers. She carried white caryanthemums. Miss Cross was gown in white silk with Valenciennes lace garniture. She wore a half wreath of yellow rosebuds and carried white caryanthemums, caught with yellow ribbon.
"Many handsome gifts were received, among them being a valuable piece of real estate from Mr. Cross, and a chest of silver from the groom's relatives.
"The bride and her sister, Miss Katherine Cross, are pleasantly known here where they have been popular guests of Mrs. J. R. Durie."

KENTUCKY GIDEONS AT HOPKINSVILLE

Will Meet There Early in January for State Convention.

Two Paducahans Are On the Program—Convention Meets January 7th and 8th.

ORDER IS GROWING RAPIDLY.

KY GIDEONS

4 Deck
The second annual convention of the Gideons, of which there are several Paducah members, will be held in Hopkinsville January 7th and 8th. It will be the second annual convention, the first having been held in Paducah January of this year.
The Gideons are an organization of Christian commercial traveling men. Formed four years ago at Jakesville, Wis., by J. H. Nicholson, the first camp having only a few members, the band has had a wonderful growth and there are now 5,000 Gideons in America.
Mr. Nicholson, who surrendered a $5,000 position to give all his time to promoting the cause of Christianity among traveling men, is the national president. He will attend the meeting and deliver two addresses. Many attractive speakers will be present, and a program of great interest has been prepared for the meeting. All the Hopkinsville pastors have tendered the use of the churches and Sunday, January 8, the pulpits will be occupied by Gideons.
The program is quite lengthy, and men from all over the state are on it. The Paducahans who are down to take part are Mr. Harry Lukens, who will read scripture at the Baptist church, and Mr. Herman Graham, who will do likewise at the First Presbyterian.
Kentucky has many flourishing camps, and the order is said to be growing rapidly.

GOT REPRIEVE

ELI BUGG WILL NOT BE HANGED AT MOUND CITY TOMORROW.

Gov. Yates Will Allow the Board of Pardons to First Pass on the Case.

Eli Bugg will not hang at Mound City, Ill., tomorrow. After the authorities had refused to interfere, the scaffold had been lowered at Cairo and the stockade about the jail yard built, Governor Yates announced that he would grant a reprieve until the Board of Pardons can consider the case, and the board does not meet until January 10th. This means that Bugg has nearly a month longer to live, as he is not granted a commutation of sentence. He killed another negro near Mound City several months ago.

Operator Transferred.

Mr. Tom Glenn, operator in the local dispatching office, has been transferred to the south yards and Operator H. B. Logsdon has been placed in Mr. Glenn's place. Mr. Logsdon has been ill but has now fully recovered.

WORK AGAIN.

Immense Roller Being Used on the Broadway Improvement.

The bitulithic street contractors began work on Broadway again this morning. The big street roller which was sent here from St. Louis, is being used in rolling the compound and it works much faster than the roller which the company used at first. It is a much larger roller and works about twice as fast. The contractors are working now on the south side of Broadway from Sixth out. The concrete has all set and the work will be delayed no longer unless by bad weather.

THE HOTEL BREAKFAST.

How the American Meal Appears to an Englishman.

The American hotel breakfast is representative of the general delight in good living. The length of the menu and the variety of the dishes bespeak an appetite that in the early morning can relish a meal little less substantial than a dinner.

The hotel breakfast begins with fruit—grape fruit if it happens to be in season, the bitter sweetness of which seems designated by nature to awaken the appetite. And there is really a bewildering problem when next you are asked to choose among the cereals—from the old fashioned oatmeal to all kinds of predigested preparations. Cooked oysters in every style are offered on the menu, and even in the best restaurants a plate of oysters costs only a shilling. The choice of fish can be made from a long list—of kinds unknown in England, including weakfish, bluefish and shad, with its delicate roe. It must be out of compliment to English travelers that herring and haddock are imported. You see them very seldom on an American breakfast table.

When boiled eggs are eaten they are opened by the waiter into a glass, no small quantity of butter being added—salt butter, for "sweet" butter is seldom served. With chops or steak the American, who never eats cold meats at breakfast, usually orders potatoes, and the meal may be brought to a close with pancakes. These hot cakes, which are made of wheat, buckwheat, rice or cornmeal, are eaten smothered in multiple strips, a delicious treat obtained from the sap of maple trees. The American drinks coffee for breakfast—such a coffee as you may find in Paris, but not in London—and that he does not prefer tea would need no other explanation than the failure to understand the art of making it—London Mail.

THE FIRST PIE PLATES.

They Were Made by the German Potters of Philadelphia.

The first pie plates were made early in the eighteenth century by the German potters who settled in Philadelphia. After the clay was prepared it was cut into small pieces by means of a brass wire and taken to the work bench to be made into plates.

The clay was roughly beaten into a flattened form looking like a colossal buckwheat cake. This was rolled out into a thin sheet with a roller much like a rolling pin, and then a disk cutter was used to cut it into circular pieces of the required diameter. This hat, as it was called, was then laid on a board until partly dry and was then decorated.

The slip decoration was applied by means of a slip cup, an earthen vessel with goose quills inserted into the openings, through which the liquid slip was made to trickle over the ware in a variety of patterns, just as being applied to cake at the present time. The slip mixture was of a creamy color and of white clay and water.

Favorite motives for decorations were flowers, fruits and scenes, tulips being a special pet. A Lutheran minister asked his potter to dine with him to discuss designs for a set of plates he wished to order. As the potter was accustomed to dine at 12, he was almost finished when the clergyman's 2 o'clock dinner was served. When the set of plates came home, each with a pious sentiment interwoven among the marginal decorations, the minister laughed to find an extra plate, bearing this inscription: "I have never been at a place where they dine so late." So much for Pennsylvania-German humor.—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Rebellious Actor.
Frederick Lemaitre, the French actor, was playing Robert Macaire in a town of France where two soldiers of the garrison represented the policemen who had to arrest him. In the spirit of his part he gave one of them a "cos" orus kick. "Ha, we must see to this," cried the infuriated soldier and promptly knocked Lemaitre into the orchestra. At this there was a terrible din, and the soldier began to see that the claudication of his uniform was not popular. But Lemaitre, when he regained the stage, took the gentleman by the hand and said: "Excellent! well done, my friend. The uniform must be respected even in the theater. Come to lunch with me tomorrow and bring your comrade."Hats, Boots and Hearses.
Mrs. Nolan had made some disparaging remarks about the costume of her husband's bosom friend, Mr. Herlihy, and they were promptly resented. "This hat is turning green with age, is it?" said Mr. Nolan, with fine scorn, "and his boots is rusty and cracked looking," did I hear you say? Listen now to me, Mary Nolan. If every woman's hat and boots covered as yours are heart as Phelim Herlihy's there'd be more proud winners in the world!"Good Teaching.
Miss Slighter (in Egypt)—Mr. Newrich, you scale up these rocks as if you'd been climbing pyramids all your life! Were you bred in the mountains? Mr. Newrich—Oh, no; but I carried a hod up a two story ladder for a good many years before I struck oil.—Detroit Free Press.The Retired Cavalier.
Mr. Sapleigh—I spent last evening in the company of the one I love best in all the world. Miss Port—Indeed! And weren't you tired of being alone?—Illustrated Bits.

In the reign of George III, hats were taxed. The least tax was threepence. Those above 12 shillings in value paid a tax of 2 shillings.

OLD TIME NEW YORK.

The City as Pictured by Jedidiah Morse in 1802.

"The city of New York is inhabited principally by merchants, physicians, lawyers, mechanics, shopkeepers and tradesmen, composed of almost all nations and religions. They are generally respectable in their several professions and sustain the reputation of honest, punctual, fair dealers."

In such wise the affairs of New York city were summed up by Jedidiah Morse, D. D., in 1802. The quotations are from Mr. Morse's "Geography Made Easy," published in December, 1802, a few copies of which remarkable book have come down in the yellowed pages to the third and fourth generations of those that studied the fresh issues.

Mr. Morse found still discernible among the inhabitants of his New York "the neatness, parsimony and industry" of the early Dutch settlers, and he had courage to believe that these qualities "will probably continue visible for many years to come."

When geography was being made easy, in 1802, New York was the capital of the state and Albany and Hudson were the only other incorporated cities.

"The principal part of the city (New York)," wrote Mr. Morse, "lies on the east side of the island, although the buildings extend from one river to the other. The length of the city on East river is about two miles, but falls much short of that distance on the banks of the Hudson. The houses are generally built of brick and the roofs tiled."

The geography notes that New York "is esteemed the most eligible situation for commerce in the United States." Moreover, "in point of sociability and hospitality New York is hardly exceeded by any town in the United States."

"On a general view of this city as described thirty years ago," the geography goes on, "and in its present state the comparison is flattering to the present age, particularly the improvements in taste, elegance of manners and that easy, unaffected civility and politeness which form the happiness of social intercourse."

There were sixteen states in the Union when Mr. Morse wrote. He had kind words for these and for the known countries of the world at large before concluding his work with a chronological table extending from the creation to his own date he indulged in a gentle prophecy thus as to the growth of the republic:

"Admitting the population of the United States at present (1802) to be 5,000,000 and that this number by natural increase and by immigration will be doubled in twenty years and continue to increase in that ratio for a century to come, at that period (1902) there will be in United America 100,000,000 inhabitants, nearly 20,000,000 more than there are at present in all Europe."

My have fallen far from Mr. Morse's expectation, even assuming that in "United America" he meant to include Canada. Yet was he an able and kindly geographer and not more sanguine than his day.—New York World.

Two Watchful Hearers.
A certain pastor, according to the Minneapolis Journal, had in his congregation two men that troubled him by sleeping in church. At last he said to one of them:

"Brother Parker, did you ever notice that brother Benjamin had fallen into the habit of sleeping during service?"

Brother Parker had not noticed it, but he was pained at the information. "Well, might I ask you to sit beside him next Sabbath and nudge him in case he falls asleep?"

Brother Parker would most certainly do so.

The clerical brother then seeks his esteemed co-worker, Brother Benjamin.

"Brother Benjamin, have you noticed Brother Parker's habit of sleeping during the sermon?"

Brother Benjamin had noticed it and had been pained.

"Well, would you do me the favor of sitting beside Brother Parker next Sunday and nudging him in the case of drowsiness?"

Most certainly Brother Benjamin would do so.

The spectacle of the two good men keeping tab on each other in the sanctuary next Sabbath nearly upset the dignity of our clerical friend during his ministrations.

The Ancient Calendar.

In times past the Jewish year had two commencement. The religious year began with the month of Abib (April) and the civil year with Tishri (October). The year was a solar one, and but two seasons were reckoned: summer and winter. The months were lunar, twelve in number, each of thirty days. This was the case with the average year, but occasionally a thirteenth was necessarily interpolated.

This thirteenth month was called "Veadar." Several of the ancient nations—the Egyptians, Chaldeans, Persians and Phoenicians in particular—began their year at the time of the autumnal equinox, about Sept. 22. The beginning of the year among the Greeks until about the year 432 B. C., when Meton introduced the cycle called after him, was at the time of the winter solstice, or about Dec. 22, and afterward at the time of the summer solstice, June 22. In England from the fourteenth century until the change from "old style" to "new style" in 1752, the legal and ecclesiastical year began with March 25.

With a Reservation.
"I suppose," said the physician to the seoffer, "that you would throw physic to the dogs?"
"Not good dogs," the other returned gravely.

By ROBERT W. CHAMBERS

Copyright, 1901, by ROBERT W. CHAMBERS

"Attention! Attention!" he cried, unfolding a paper, and promptly commenced to read his news to the crowd: "By permission of the Right Hon. Earl of Dunmore, governor of Virginia, Four days' sport on Roanoke plain. The Colonial club offering prizes of $100 and $50; the Richmond club offering two purses of $50. Attention! Sport on the Roanoke, an even and delightful plain, most sweet and pleasant. Today the Noblemen and Gentlemen's purse of $50, free for any horse except Mr. Connolly's Scimitar, who won the plate last season. Second, a silver cup worth $12. Tuesday, County Subscription purse of $50.

"Did you see the king?" I turned back into the room and began my toilet. How strange to find this town, undisturbed in its rural pleasures, busy about its own affairs, while scarce a night's journey to the north the frontier was in ashes and the dead lay in the charred embers of their own dwellings!

How strange to look out on the peace of these sunny streets, with the clenders of Crenap's camp still clinging to my hunting shirt, with my own blood caking the sole on my arm where a Cayuga child had thrust a lighted pine splinter into my flesh! Strange—aye, astonishing—that these people here behind their fortresses, their blockhouses, their earthworks and stockades, should forget those who dwell beyond the gates, wrestling the dark night lurch by lurch from the giant pines of the wilderness.

Somber thoughts filled me. I had a hard role to play before Lord Dunmore. I had a harder role to act before Silver Heels if she were still here in Pittsburgh.

It gave me no pleasure to find myself so near her. The attitude she had assumed toward me that last night in Johnston had hurt enough to leave a scar. But when again appear wounds are healed, and so was mine. It was true, I had never loved her as men love sweethearts. Her sudden and amazing appearance as a woman had aroused my curiosity, her popularity and beauty my jealousy. It was hurt pride that tempered me when the play-fellow I had tolerated and protected and tolerated at my pleasure, turned and, tolerated and finally ignored me.

I did not love her when I pronounced her contempt with my courtship of Mrs. Hamilton. I did not love her when I followed her to the pantry to bully her into according me her respect once more. It was vanity—vanity when I sought because young Heven took her from me; vanity when I assailed the pretty ears of Mrs. Hamilton with cold cynicism and foolish wit. I scorned myself for having deceived my own heart with the fancy that I had ever loved my cousin Silver Heels.

Now that the demon Butler had been exorcised by Sir William, and now that Sir William wished for my union with Silver Heels and had pronounced me the means to maintain her as her rank required, I understood plainly that I did not love her in that way. She was only my playfellow; she had never been anything else. I meant to see her and tell her so; I meant to ask her forgiveness for offending her; I meant to seek her friendly confidence once more, to warn her that she should not tarry here in these troublous times, but return at once to Johnston Hall, where Sir William could protect her not only from the savages, but also from that creature whose every breath of life was an offense to his Creator.

Boundless Silver Heels would go with me. Dunmore would be obliged to provide our escort. Indeed, his lordship would be glad enough to see me leave his town of Pittsburgh ere I had dined with his business here.

I had laid my hand on the knob, intent on seeking breakfast below, and was about to open the door when somebody knocked. It was Sam Shemuel, smiling and folding his hands over his belly—a greasy spectacle, in sooth, for a hungry stomach—and I scowled and bade him state his business quickly in the devil's name.

"Good day and greeting, sir," said the peddler, bowing and rubbing himself against the door like a cat. "Gott save our country, Mr. Cardigan. You are expected to join the gentlemen in 13, sir. Mr. Mount begs you will hold no conversation with strangers hereabouts nor entertain no one until he sees you, sir."

"Very well," I said. "Miss Warren lies here in Pittsburgh, sir?" "I supposed so," I said coldly, "but that does not interest me." "Maybe," he said apologetically, "you don't know soundings?" "What things?"

"Miss Warren wedd mit Lord Dunmore in July."

He was gone like a slippery lizard before I could seize him. He vanished; around the corridor ere my thoughts assembled from the shock that had routed them. Now they began to rally pell-mell, and my cheeks burnt with scorn and anger, though I could not truly credit the preposterous news. That informed child thrown into the arms of a thing like Dunmore!

Agitated and furious, I paced the hall way, resolving to seek out my lady Silver Heels without loss of time or ceremony and conduct her back to the nursery where the little foot belonged.

Compassion, indeed! I'd bring her to her senses! And wait! Only wait until Sir William should learn of this! Somewhat comforted at the thought of the baronet's anger and dismay, I pocketed my excitement and began to search for the door of room 13 where, according to Shemuel, I was expected. I had forgotten the pedestal's direction; besides, the house was unexplored ground for me, and I wandered about several corridors until I noticed a pleasant faced gentleman watching me from the stairs.

He doubtless noticed my perplexity, for he bowed very courteously as I passed him and made some polite observation which required a civil answer, and before I was fully aware of it he had invited me to a morning cup with him in the taproom.

This was a trifle too friendly on short acquaintance. Shemuel's warning to hold my tongue and avoid strangers instantly occurred to me. On my guard, I prayed him to pardon my declining, with many compliments and excuses, which I heaped upon him to avoid the seeming discourtesy of refusing him my name.

He was truly a most pleasant gentleman, a stranger in Pittsburgh, so he said, and bearing very gracefully the title of captain and the name of Murdy. He appeared most anxious to present me to his friend, Dr. Connolly, in the taproom, but I begged permission to defer the honor and left him, somewhat nonplussed, on the stairway.

In a few moments I found room 13 and knocked. It was Corporal Paul Clond who admitted me. The room was large. A table stood in the center, around which were gathered Jack Mount, Cade Heven, Jimmy Wolfe, the landlord of the Virginia Arms; my former host, Timothy Boyd, and another man whom I had never before seen. Crenap was not there, but in a corner, wrapped to the eyes in his dark blanket, sat the bearded Cayuga chief, Logan, staring at the floor.

I saluted the stranger, and he bowed silently in return. He appeared to be a man of forty, elegantly yet soberly dressed, wearing his own dark hair, unpowdered, in a cue, a gentleman in bearing, in voice, in every movement, a thoroughbred to the tips of his smooth, well ordered fingers.

Mount in a very subdued voice asked permission to present me, and the gentleman bowed, saying he knew my name from hearing of my father.

As for his name, I think anybody in the colonies—aye, in London, too—would know it, for the gentleman beside whom I had been placed was the famous Virginian, Patrick Henry, that fiery orator who had bidden our king mock well the lives of Caesar and Charles I. to profit by their sad examples.

There was little conversation at table. Mr. Henry asked Boyd about the burning of Crenap's village, and the brave old man told the story in a few short phrases.

Mount came over beside me and, resting his massive head on his hands, spoke low, "Crenap was arrested last night by Dr. Connolly, Dunmore's deputy, and is to be relieved of his command."

"In Dr. Connolly Dunmore's agent?" I asked quietly. "Then he's here in the house now?"

"I know it," said Mount. "He and his fawning agent, Murdy, are watching the inn to learn who is here. By the way, my name in anything you please if they ask you. It won't do for the Wenzel and me to flaunt our quality in Pittsburgh town. There was once a fat Tory Judge walking yonder on the highway, and—well, you know, moonlight and mischief are often abroad together." "Why did they arrest Crenap?" I asked. "Why? Oh, Lord, the town is full of people blaming Dunmore for this new war. There was like to be a riot yesterday when one of Crenap's runners came in with news of the rising. So Dunmore, frightened, called in Connolly and Murdy, and they went about town swearing that Dunmore was innocent and that the wicked Crenap did it all. And now Connolly has had Crenap arrested, and he swears that Dunmore will make an example of Crenap for oppressing the poor Indians. There's your Tory governor for you!"

Horrified at such hyperbole, I could only gasp while Mount shrugged his broad shoulders and went on: "That this ruffianlike Dunmore has bitten off more than he can poison. Logan's here to demand justice on Crenap. And now you are here to protect in Sir William's name. Oh, it's a fine pickle Dunmore will find himself swimming in."

"When is Logan to have an audience with Dunmore?" I asked.

"Tonight in the fortress. And, Mr. Cardigan, I took the liberty of announcing to the governor's secretary, Tibbott, that an envoy from Sir William Johnson had arrived with a message for Lord Dunmore."

"But," said I, puzzled, "does Dunmore expect a messenger from Sir William?"

"Hasn't you heard from Shemuel?" asked Mount. "I told him to tell you that Dunmore wants to marry the beautiful Miss Warren, who's cutting such a swath here. He sent his offer by runner to Sir William, and, being a Tory, an earl and governor of Virginia, he naturally expects Sir William will throw the poor girl at his head."

"Mark you, Mount," I said, chucking back my passion, "this night my Lord Dunmore will learn some things of which he is ignorant. One of them is that my kinswoman, Miss Warren, is betrothed to me!"

I did not love Silver Heels. I did not want to wed her. But something had to be done, and that quickly. If I was to take the silly, deluded girl back to Johnston with me.

"You must attack by me now, Jack Mount," I said, "for the Lord knows what trouble lies before me ere I shake the Pittsburgh dust off my moccasins!"

After a moment Mount said: "I suppose you don't know Butler is at attendance on Dunmore, but I shan't tell you the last night."

"Very well," said I, smacking my suddenly parched lips. "I will kill him before I leave Pittsburgh."

I drew Mount and Leonard aside and asked them where Miss Warren was staying. They did not know. "We'll make a tour of the town and find Shemuel; he knows," suggested Mount.

"DO IT TODAY."

The time-worn injunction, "Never put off till tomorrow what you can do today," is now generally presented in this form: "Do it today!" That is the terse advice we want to give you about that hacking cough or demoralizing cold with which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. Take some reliable remedy for it TODAY—and let that remedy be Dr. Boschee's German Syrup, which has been in use for over thirty-five years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough or cold, and its continued use a few days will cure you completely. No matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread, consumption has attacked your lungs German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of cases of lung trouble. New trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. For sale by DuBois, Kolb & Co.

The man who pays his debts isn't the one who borrows trouble.

IT WAS NO DREAM

Even Though Nearly Incredible.

"For twenty years I suffered with piles, sometimes being confined to my bed for days at a time. The relief received from doctors, both in the United States and Mexico, was temporary and more frequently I received no relief; other medicines had no effect; it was a continual drag; I was fit for nothing. I finally tried Pyramid Pile Cure; first application was magical; I could not believe I was awake next morning. I experienced a relief I had not known for twenty years."

"One box cured me, but not believing myself cured I bought two more and they are still in my trunk. I first used this remedy in July, 1902; HAVE HAD NO OCCASION TO USE IT SINCE. The world should know of Pyramid Pile Cure. I have no words to express its merits." E. A. Leonard, Nueva Calle de San Antonio de las Huertas No. 5, City of Mexico.

Pyramid Pile Cure is in the form of a suppository, which is admitted to be the best form of treatment for piles; it comes in direct contact with the painful tumors and does its work quickly and painlessly. It is sold by druggists generally, for fifty cents a package and there is no other remedy "just as good."

Write Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., for their little book describing the cause and cure of piles, as it is sent free for the asking.

TO FIND HUSBANDS.

Some Quaint Customs of the Young Women of Russia.

Russian girls frequently amuse themselves by attempting to discover what sort of husbands will eventually lead them to the altar. A favorite manner of doing this is by so called divination.

The girl who is tired of a single life sits in the mystic hours of the night between two large mirrors. On each side she places a candle and then eagerly watches until she can see twelve reflected lights. If the fates are propitious she ought also to discern the husband she desires portrayed in the glass before her.

Another method of divination is to have supper laid for two. If the young lady is in luck the apparition of the future husband will come and sit down beside her, but in order to secure success the girl must not divulge to any one her intention of thus attempting to dive into futurity.

There is a story told to the effect that the daughter of a rich farmer was in love with a young lieutenant, and he, suspecting that she would probably have supper laid for two, climbed the wall of the garden, and sitting down by her side partook of the prepared banquet, the girl being under the impression that it was his apparition and not the real thing.

On leaving the room the officer forgot his sword, which he had unbuttoned before he sat down to supper. The girl, finding the weapon after his departure, hid it in the cupboard as a memento of the visitor.

Eventually she married another soldier, and he, fancying that there was some rival who supplanted him in his wife's affection and one day discovering the sword, was confirmed in his suspicions and killed her in a fit of passion.

Sometimes the inquisitive husband seeks will take a candle, and, melting it, he will put it on the snow, after which she strives to discern in the hardened substance the likeness of him she seeks.

A very favorite amusement when several girls are congregated under the same roof is to divine by the aid of a cork. Each girl, taking some cork, makes a small heap on the floor and there conceals a ring. The chattering is then introduced and in let loose beside the cork. Presently he begins to peek at the heaps of grain. At last one of the rings is exposed to view, when its owner, according to the popular belief, will outstrip her companions in the race for matrimony.—Cassell's Journal.

The Psychology of Vanity.

A French scientist, M. Camille Monod, discusses in La Revue (Paris) the psychological aspects of vanity, which, he declares, is the desire for praise become all powerful. Vanity in the beginning, he declares, is more a caprice than a vice, but vices may arise out of it. He discusses vanity of dress, of manners and of intellect. To prevent the development of vanity, he says, we should begin very early with the child. In fact, it is we who make the child vain by the misuse of praise, comparisons with companions, too much admiration; also by railway, which may cause the child much suffering and teach him to fear criticism.

There is too much appeal to amour propre, and there are too many competitions and prizes which may stimulate energy, but require very prudent use. It would be better to compare the scholar with himself. To work to be the first need not be bad, but to work for the joy of working and learning is much better and less exciting. Finally, let us remember that the advantages we boast of have little value in themselves; all depends on the use we make of them. The only quality of which we can never be vain is justice.

Fate of the Three Men.

There were once three men who gave a great deal of thought to the problem of what to do the first of the year.

The first man announced that he had sworn off all his bad habits. Everybody said he always was a wild character, and it would be well to keep closer watch than ever on him; as now there was no telling when he would cut loose worse than ever.

The second man, seeking to profit by the experience of the first, declared that he had not sworn off because he had no bad habits to discard. The result was that everybody pronounced him a hardened wretch, who was insensible and indifferent to the duties of life.

The third man studied their cases and concluded that the best thing he could do would be to say nothing whatever. Whereupon everybody asserted that he was too calloused to reform and was not worthy of any respect at all.

This simply goes to show that, no matter how you guess, you will guess wrong.—Judge.

The Wedding Ring.

In France there is a peculiar significance in the ways in which the ring is held at the precise moment of the utterance of the fatal words of the marriage vow. If the bridegroom slips the ring at once over the second joint it is a sign that he gives of the sovereignty of his own house, but if as he repeats the words he merely holds it over the end of the finger, but does not let it slip down till afterward, it declares that he intends to remain master and protector.

Abroad the absence or presence of the wedding ring is much more noticed than in England. In Norway it is considered dishonorable for a man not to bear the sign that he is married. In modern Greece the husband wears a gold ekelet, the wife a silver, a reminiscence of the ancient sun and moon worship, which still prevails in India.—London Madam.

COMES IN APRIL

MICKY FINN TO BRING TOLEDO TEAM HERE.

Made All Arrangements and is Pleased With the Prospects of the Game.

M. J. Finn, known throughout the baseball world as "Mickey" Finn, last year manager of the Little Rock, Ark., Southern league team, but who will manage the Toledo, O., team in the American Association this season, left last night for Memphis after a few hours' stay in Paducah looking over the ball park and conferring with Mr. John Keiler and Mr. Gus Thompson, of the Paducah baseball association. Mr. Finn announced that he would use the Paducah ball park as a training ground for his team this spring and was here yesterday simply to complete arrangements, which he did. He was en route to Memphis, where a meeting of the Southern League is being held today, and will not return to Paducah until he brings his team here in April for training, unless he comes to look after the improving of the ball park.

"I like your town immensely," he informed "Chief" Lloyd, manager of the Paducah team, who is an old friend of Finn, "and if the sporting interest is alive as other interest seems to be, then I feel safe in saying you have one of the hottest ball towns of its size I have ever been in. I will bring my team here about April first to practice, and will remain until just prior to the opening of the league. I will bring my entire team to Paducah, my throat men and all, and this will be an opportunity for the members of your own team to work out and go against some of the big leaguers."

Mr. Finn has the assurance of the baseball association that the grand stand will be removed to the north end of the park and the grounds put in the best shape possible. The work will start as soon as the spring sets in and pushed to rapid completion. The revenue derived from Finn's team working here will be a big figure in the improvement of the park grand stand and grounds, and it is said the grand stand will be enlarged and built on the same lines of the St. Louis park, a double decker. This is merely a suggestion made which the management seems to have favorably taken, and it is not settled yet about the type of grand stand to be built.

Finn met Land, Gerard and other ball players who are wintering here, and with Lloyd had a long talk over the prospects of the game this season. Finn thinks it will be even more popular than last season and says the outlook is bright.

SCHOOLS CLOSED

At Fulton on Account of Prevalence of Scarlet Fever.

The public schools have had to close at Fulton, Ky., on account of the prevalence of scarlet fever among the children. The situation has been quite serious, but it is stated today is improved. The papers have published warnings to all people to keep their children as close at home as possible, and it is believed the threatened epidemic may be averted.

Presbyterian Minister Dies.

Rev. W. K. Patterson, for many years pastor of the Presbyterian church at Bardonia, Ky., died at Louisville yesterday of peritonitis. He leaves a wife and two children, and is well known all over the state. He was a native of Arkansas, but the greater part of his life had been spent in Kentucky and Tennessee.

Hayes' Beechwood Emulso-Hypo With Iron

Makes Fat, Strength, Blood, Bone and Muscle.

If you are tired, broken down, despondent, worn out, pale, losing flesh, have no energy, do not feel like rising in the morning for the day's work, you need a bottle of this wonderful medicine. Do you want good rich red blood? Do you want the bloom to come back to the cheek? Are you convalescing after having fever, pneumonia or measles? Then you ought to take a bottle of EMULSO-HYPO. Its medicinal food that reaches every tissue in the body and builds you up. Taken in a little wine its as pleasant as cough syrup.

Read what the editor of the Meridian Star of Mississippi, A. G. Davis, writes under date of April 8:

"My mother took the Emulso-Hypo and has been greatly benefited. She is in better health than she has been in years."

J. W. Russell, county court clerk of Hickman county, Tenn., writes:

"My wife has used several bottles of Emulso-Hypo with iron, and has been wonderfully improved. I can conscientiously recommend it for all lung trouble."

Rev. G. T. Sullivan, presiding elder of the Memphis district, writes under date of Dec. 1, 1903:

"My daughter, whose system was very much run down, has been taking year Beechwood Emulso-Hypo with iron, and has improved so much with one bottle I have no doubt by continuance she will be fully restored in her service. I am delighted with the results and shall continue her on it. Wishing you prosperity, I am, yours truly, G. T. SULLIVAN."

SHOW COMPANIES HAVING HARD LUCK

Hopkinsville Seems to be a Sort of a Graveyard for Them.

Harry Ward's Minstrel Stranded After Leaving Here a Few Days Ago.

WARD HIMSELF IS DISABLED

Harry Ward's minstrel has disbanded. Harry has been playing in tough luck of late. He has been laid up from an operation for appendicitis, and his wife has been running the show. Ward is well known in Paducah, and very popular here. He came to Paducah regularly until last season, first with other companies, being known as "the next president of minstrelsy," and later with his own show. He is a prominent Elk, and has several times been entertained by Paducah lodge.

The Hopkinsville New Era says: "This region is becoming a theatrical grave yard. Several dramatic companies have gone to pieces and the season is yet young. Scott's minstrels 'busted' shortly after playing here, and the Howard Stock company disbanded at Clarksville. Bert Marshall's comedians (?) broke up here, and now Ward's Minstrel troupe, which appeared at the opera house one night last week, is stranded in Evansville. The Evansville Courier says:

"Ward & Wade's minstrel show, which played to good houses at the People's yesterday, paid off its musicians, acrobats and singers after the performance last night and disbanded. Most of the members of the company had three weeks' back pay coming to them, and were 'broke.' They received their dismissal and $4.75 each.

"Several of the players claimed that railroad discrimination against hauling their car during the last three weeks' tour through Alabama and Tennessee, had caused the management to cut many of their best towns and to make long and unprofitable jumps. Up to three weeks ago it was said the show had been making money.

"Wade, who was originally a partner with Ward in the company, withdrew last year and is now with the Primrose & West show in California. Mr. Ward's wife has been running the show this fall and has all the scenery, cars and equipment in her name. None of the players know whether they are under contract to Mrs. Ward or the defunct Ward & Wade minstrels. Consequently they did not attach the car and its contents last night by legal action. The hanker of the show is said to be Mrs. Ward's brother, a banker in Monroeville, Mo. It is said that Manager Murphy received a telegram from Mrs. Ward's brother last night to keep the troupe together here until he could get to Evansville and reorganize the company and make new contracts with the players.

"The stranded company contains thirty people. Originally the show carried thirty-five people, but five of the men saw the crash coming and quit last week while the show was playing in Jackson, Tenn. It is hardly possible that Manager Murphy can hold the company together here until Mrs. Ward's brother arrives to straighten out matters, as several of the company announced their intention of leaving for Chicago this morning. Among the members of the stranded company are four very youthful acrobats. These boys received their $4 apiece along with the remainder of the minstrels."

BOARD OF WORKS

WORK ON SECOND STREET ORDERED DEFERRED UNTIL JANUARY FIRST.

Repairs Are Now Being Made on the Sewerage Pumping Station.

The board of works held its regular meeting yesterday afternoon, and authorized Contractors Robertson & Gardner to defer work on Second street between Broadway and Kentucky avenue until after the first of the year, or until spring, if necessary.

The storm water sewerage on Kentucky avenue between First and Second was ordered started at once.

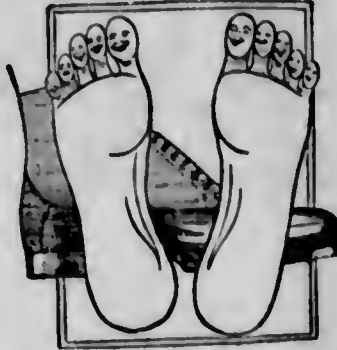

The board recommended the construction of a switch from the N. E. & St. L. to the E. L. Mallory Grain establishment near Seventh and Norton streets.

The request of the street railway company for permission to erect a transfer shed at Fourth and Broadway near McPherson's, was refused, as the board thinks it would block the sidewalk, and it has no right to give anyone permission to violate the law. It recommends, however, that the company be given permission to erect an iron shed there without sides.

Street Inspector Elliott was instructed to have holes in all streets that need it, repaired.

A report was made to the board that repairs have been started to the sewerage pumping station by Engineer John Holmes.

The board of works is preparing its annual report showing amount of work done and the cost of it during the past year. It will be submitted to the mayor for use in his annual message.

The board has decided not to make any recommendations relative to the enlargement of the city light plant until after the new members of the board take their seats, as the latter have to pass on the recommendation and it would be a waste of time to present the matter to the present boards.

RIVER OUTLOOK IS STILL GLOOMY

Preparations Being Made for Resumption of Navigation.

It Is Not Yet Certain That There Will Be a Boating Season, However—Danger of Freeze.

RIVER MEN LOSING $8,750 A DAY

The river here today is three feet, a rise of one-tenth last night. This is not as much as the river men would like to see it, but it is better than if the stream were falling or on a stand.

After all, river men are not over-confident of the early resumption of navigation, because of reports from above. As they all know, it will take a world of water to put the Ohio where it is wanted, and where it is to come from at this season of the year has not yet become evident.

The present condition of the Ohio river is leading river men to worry over the possibility that the river may close with heavy ice for the winter before the large packets and towboats get into operation. There is plenty of business waiting for the through boats, and the towboatmen hoped they would get out with towboats of coal before the winter freeze came. The prospects look gloomy at present.

The Monongahela River, Coal Co. has ordered all its men to report to their boats at once. Captains, mates, engineers and firemen started for various points along the river between Pittsburgh and Cincinnati. The coal company believes that a boating season is near and is getting its men ready and on board its boats so they will be ready for any emergency. The men have been relieved from duty for several months, and during this time only a watchman or two have occupied quarters on the boats.

The Pittsburg Leader says: "It was predicted yesterday that unless a rise should come soon in the Monongahela river navigation would be tied up until spring. The water is so low now in the upper pools of the Monongahela river that it will freeze more easily the entire width of the river than it would if the river were higher. If the upper pools once freeze over rivermen despair of getting through to Monongahela by getting through to Morgantown before spring, for if the ice does not melt the navigation channel will be in such a shape as to render the river traffic costly and dangerous."

"Roughly estimated from figures obtained from a reliable source, the men who obtain their livelihood by work on the rivers are losing $8,750 per day during the present period of low water, including captains, pilots, engineers, deckhands, and rowers. There are approximately 2,500 men employed on the rivers during the boating season. Not including the salaries of high-paid officials, these men make from $2 to $5 per day or an average of $3.50 each. On this basis the loss per day of $8,750 is figured."

VERY MANY BOOKS TAKEN OUT DAILY

The Carnegie Library is Considered a Great Success.

A Called Meeting of the Board Tomorrow Night to Prepare a Report For the Year.

LIST OF NEW BOOKS ARRANGED.

There will be a called meeting of the Carnegie library board tomorrow night for the purpose of allowing accounts and preparing to close up the business for the year.

The library is being patronized liberally now, and many hundreds of books are taken out weekly. The juveniles are reading a great deal and the library is perhaps as often frequented as the postoffice.

The purchasing committee of the board is at work preparing a list of new books to purchase the first of the year. There will be a list of about 600 volumes to buy and the cost will be about $800. This will be the first purchased since the library opened.

"We take great pride in our library," a member of the board said, "and are glad that it is so liberally patronized. Some people predicted that the library would be an unnecessary expense on the city to be patronized by but few interested in literature, but we find that this is erroneous and that instead of being simply a means of putting literature into the hands of readers, it is making readers. You would be surprised to see how many people who have been light readers, come to the library for books. They just cannot get enough reading and the library will never be a burden on the hands of the city because of the lack of patronage."

The committee will likely submit the list of books already selected for approval and complete the arrangement of the list tomorrow night, although this matter is left entirely in the committee's hands.

PAY TRAIN

Will Arrive in Paducah Tomorrow From Louisville Division.

The I. C. pay car will arrive tomorrow from the Louisville division and all hands will be paid off. The merchants, as usual, will remain open to accommodate the trade. The majority of the downtown stores are open at night now for the holiday trade, and will not be inconvenienced by the arrival of the pay car. This will bring the railroad trade far enough ahead of the holidays for the merchants to handle it successfully.

Rockefeller's Gift.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 15.—John D. Rockefeller has given between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 as a Christmas gift to the University of Chicago. This report was today declared to be true by a member of the advisory committee of the Baptist theological union. The money, it is understood, is to be used for the creation of a school of engineering. President Harper returned today from New York, where he met Mr. Rockefeller.
